Reveal and score

For any couples quiz sheet in this set

1. Take turns reading. One of you reads question 1 aloud. Swap readers each question.
2. Answers first, then guesses. Both say your own answer. Then each reads out the guess you made for the other.
3. Score your guesses. 1 point when your guess matches your partner's answer. Whoever answered decides if it is close enough, and generous is good. Circle-one questions must match exactly.
4. Starred guess. If the guess you starred is right, it scores 2 instead of 1.
5. Passing. Either of you can skip a question before it is read. Nobody shares an answer and nobody scores.
6. Totals. Add your points. Tied? The closer tie-breaker guess wins. Still tied? You both win.

What the score means

Your points count how many of tonight's guesses landed. That is all. It is not a compatibility score, and a surprise is not a bad sign: it is something new to ask about.

After a surprise

Ask one follow-up before moving on:

- Since when?
- What is the story behind that?
- What would change your answer?

Tonight's points
