
at yours

Pip's picture mini-adventure

HOST GUIDE - CONTAINS ANSWERS

A4 • Edition 1.0.0 • Colour

Three little stops on Pip's snowy trail. Read together, point to the pictures and find your way home.

Designed for 3-5 + adult; 1-4 children + adult. Time target: 15-20 minutes.

Prototype edition: independent human playtests and physical print checks are pending.

Before you play

Materials: Grown-up reader; Printed clue sheets or one shared screen

1. A grown-up reads; little players can point, speak or tap.
2. Follow the three chapters and use hints whenever you like.
3. This is a free selection from Where's Pip?, not an additional story.

Host preparation

Read the complete game and prepare the listed materials. Do not present design-target ages or times as observed test results. Offer reading, pointing, seated and untimed options.

If a clue is unclear, use the progressive hints and note the edition and page for a repair. Never add an unstated rule to make an answer work.

Pip's footprints

Accepted answer: Triangle

Hint 1: Point to the first group.

Hint 2: Round, round, pointy.

Hint 3: The missing footprint is pointy.

Explanation: Two circles and a triangle repeat. Pip's next footprint is a triangle.

The garden gate

Accepted answer: Star

Hint 1: Find the pointed shape.

Hint 2: It has five points.

Hint 3: Choose the star.

Explanation: The sign and star gate match.

Where's Pip?

Accepted answer: House C

Hint 1: First find the houses with a star.

Hint 2: Now choose the one with two windows.

Hint 3: House C has both.

Explanation: Pip is home in House C: star over the door, two windows. Wave hello!

Keep the good times going.

Your licence permits the use described on your order. Do not share the full pack, resell it or upload it to a public drive. A role-play host may give participants their assigned role sheets for the actual event.

Need help? Use Help & access in your At Yours library and include the title, edition and page.

Local production edition. Human playtests, physical print review and final business details remain release gates.